To Our Calm Classroom Community,

We express our love and encouragement to you, your schools, students, and their families, during this unprecedented time of uncertainty.

The Calm Classroom mission is to empower children and adults alike with mindfulness-based techniques that support mental and emotional well-being. We recognize that there are events unfolding across the globe right now that we don't quite have control over. What we can control, or at least try to, is our individual and collective response. Though we may feel isolated, we can also feel united through caring for ourselves.

Inspired by our mission now, more than ever, and as a means to best support our school communities from afar, we are providing the following free e-resources to you and anyone you think might benefit from them - please do share with anyone you think might benefit.

- This Calm Classroom E-Book (scripted techniques & audio recordings for preschool-12th grade students and adults, Calm On the Spot techniques that can be practiced in just a few moments, and Adult Wellness Activities)
- Instagram content that is action-oriented, including real techniques and activities that you and your students can practice right now: @calmclassroom
- Weekly blog posts containing mindfulness and self-care resources (books, apps, etc.)

We thank you for the incredible work that you do and we hope that we can help ease some of the stress and anxiety that we are all experiencing through providing these resources. We welcome additional ideas, thoughts and questions. Please feel free to email us at support@calmclassroom.com.

If nothing else, remember, you always have your breath to come back to. Close your eyes. Notice the air moving in and out of your body. We are grateful for this amazing community of leaders.

Love to All,
The Calm Classroom Team

How to Use this E-Book

The mindfulness-based techniques in this e-book are designed to help you practice breathing, stretching, focusing and relaxation skills for increased well-being and resilience.

These techniques work best when practiced on a regular basis, 2-3x per day and as-needed. We recommend practicing first thing in the morning, after lunch, and toward the end of the day.

Each scripted technique lasts about 3 minutes and is easy for youth and adults to lead. Click on the speaker icon on each page to listen to an audio recording.

TIPS FOR LEADING CALM CLASSROOM TECHNIQUES:

- Keep your tone soft and soothing, yet natural.
- Slow your pacing down. Read at about half your normal speaking pace, but be careful not to read too slow!
- Pause and take one full breath in between each line.
- Use your breath to create a natural pause. One full breath lasts about 5 seconds. If the script asks you to wait 10-20 seconds, take 3-5 breaths before moving on to the next line.
- You may choose to play soft instrumental music or nature sounds while leading the technique.

CALM ON THE SPOT TECHNIQUES

These shortened techniques remind us that we can practice Calm Classroom in any moment, anywhere.

THREE GOOD THINGS JOURNAL

This exercise invites you to create space to focus on the positive, teaching you to notice, remember and savor the good things in life. In a 2005 study, this exercise was associated with increased happiness immediately afterward, as well as one week, one month, three months, and six months later. In the three spaces below, write down three things that went well for you sometime within the last week. For each thing, write about why you think it went well. As you write, follow these guidelines:

- Write down what happened including what you did or said, and if others were involved, what they did or said.
- Include how this event made you feel in the moment, and how you felt about it later.

SENDING KIND WISHES PRACTICE & JOURNAL

CLICK FOR AUDIO

In this technique you will practice extending kindness toward a person in your life, and then toward yourself. When we extend kindness toward ourselves and others, we cultivate positive emotions such as joy, gratitude and compassion. Research indicates that this technique can also help us to feel more connected to others and reduce symptoms of burnout when practiced regularly.

We are going to practice Sending Kind Wishes.

Find a comfortable position for your body.

You may close your eyes or leave them open.

Let your whole body be still.

Feel the air moving in and out of your nose. Wait 10 Seconds

Become aware of sensations around your heart and chest area. Wait 10 Seconds

Allowing yourself to relax with each breath, bring to mind the image of a person you care about.

Imagine this person and see what feelings arise. Wait 10 Seconds

You may notice feelings of happiness, peacefulness, and love.

Now, practice sending kind wishes to this person by repeating the following phrases silently to yourself .

May you be happy Wait 10-15 Seconds

May you be safe Wait 10-15 Seconds

May you be healthy Wait 10-15 Seconds

May you be peaceful Wait 10-15 Seconds

Now shift your focus to yourself. With the same kindness you sent to this person, send these kind wishes silently to yourself.

May I be happy Wait 10-15 Seconds

May I be safe Wait 10-15 Seconds

May I be healthy Wait 10-15 Seconds

May I be peaceful Wait 10-15 Seconds

When you're ready, bring your attention back to the sensations in your heart for a few more breaths. Wait 10-15 Seconds

Now, take a deep breath in. Pause, and breath out slowly.

Notice how you feel.

Slowly open your eyes.
