Math—Ms. Richards

Please keep checking your students supply of supplies; pencils, paper, etc. They have made good use of their supplies since the beginning of the year but many are running low on some.

It is now the end of the year, if that is possible! This group of students has grown incredibly and I am proud of them and all their hard work. They do have an end of unit test next week, and their final will be May 21st.

Wow! I can't believe our year together is already at its end. We are finishing out the year with Weather and climate. The science final is scheduled for May 21st, and is cumulative from January to now. Please turn in any box tops you have collected before the end of the year.

Social Studies—Mr. Griffin

We have finished the writing project over citizenship and have started a new unit a little closer to home called Mesoamerica. This area of study will explore the Maya, Aztec and Inca Civilizations from Central America and South America.

The 2nd semester final will be given on May 20th. The final will be over the Mesoamerican Civilizations. Your child will have notes to review and study for the final. This will NOT be an open note test. Therefore, your child will need to prepare ahead. Daily attendance will make this so much easier for your child. Thank you for getting your child to school each day. As the year comes to an end, I hope your child has learned that history speaks to us about the past, helps us make informed decisions in the present—those decisions will determine the success of our future. My hope is that your child will become an active citizen and protect the privileges and freedoms of this great country. Check out the history channel this summer!!! Thank you for the opportunity to share lessons from the past with your child this year!!!!

Language Arts News —Mrs. Roller

Hello we are almost there!!

To finish up the year, we are continuing our novel, Mockingbird (not to be confused with To Kill a Mockingbird). Students are engaged with whole class and small group discussions. We will culminate our novel study by doing independent book projects. Students will end the year by writing letters to the upcoming sixth graders, encouraging them, and telling them how to be successful in middle school. Let's end 2018-19 strong!

Thank you,

Ms. Roller ☺
